

MY WORLD OF WONDER

People have always daydreamed about their worlds of wonder.

In my world of wonder, people would do and share common activities and interests. A common interest all would share would be computers, allowing for a much more technological world. All arguments and conflicts would be eliminated. Life would be much simpler. There would be a strong feeling of unity between all people. All in all, the world would be easier.

Nestor Marinkovic