THE LEGENDS OF MY COUNTRY

There are a lot of legends in my country, Serbia. This legend is from Sokobanja. A long time ago Turkish people ruled over Serbia. Serbian and Turkish people hated each other. Turkish prince and Serbian princess met and fell in love. They decided to get married. Their parents didn't want that because they wanted to continue their tradition. Because of that the young couple wanted to kill themselves. They killed themselves on a little stream. Because of this legend young couples come there and they dip their hands in water hoping to be happy in their marriage.
