

YALS 2011 literary competition winners

B2

Friends

Have you ever heard of Friends? It is an American sitcom which is considered to be the best sitcom ever by many people. The proof for this, they say, is the fact that the series finale was watched by 60 million people!

The story starts in 1994, when all friends meet in Central Park, a coffee shop, which later becomes a crucial meeting place for the crew (Monica, Rachel, Phoebe, Ross, Chandler and Joey).

All the characters are funny in their own way, and all of them are good friend and never betray each other. Some of them (Monica and Chandler; Rachel and Ross) are in complex relationships, but end up together.

There is nothing I don't like about Friends. It is a classical, but still unique sitcom that makes you laugh, and shows you the bright side of life after a long day in office. It is a story about love, friendship and dating in the 21st century. You just can't help loving Friends!

If you haven't watched it yet, then grab your DVD player, go to the nearest shop, buy popcorns and enjoy Friends! The sun will shine brighter for you!

by Milica Cvetinovic, Lingva, Valjevo