English language TV programmes in my country

Introduction

The aims of this report are to

1. Tell how popular the programmes are and why;
2. What effects they have on local culture;
3. Say what we can do to change that.

As preparation for this report, I spoke with my friends and watched several TV programmes.

Programmes popular, why?

There are a lot of similar TV programmes but few of them are unique, and those are the worst ones, like 'Jersey Shore', 'Big Brother', 'Wake Brothers', 'Gerdie Shore' and the like.

They are popular because of scandals they do and because of their misbehavior, and their 'sense of humor'.

Effects on local culture

The effects can be seen on teenage people. You can't let your son watch muscled man with no education grabbing women and expect him to be a gentlemen when he grows up. Or let your daughter watch drunk girls gone wild and tell her to behave as a lady.

How to change it

In my view paid TV channels should be made and if you want to watch those 'twats' you pay for it. I don't want my son to have 'that' as part of his growing up. I feel sorry for people whose children take part in such shows.
