Serbian Healthy Food

My mother always tells me that fresh fruit and vegetable are healthy. I think that she is wrong.

The healthiest food is on my grandparent's table. A roasted pig lies on the table. It smiles to me and dares me to try it. A shiny red apple is between its teeth. The pig's long eyelashes do not blink. Its spiral tail does not wag. It looks like a cartoon image but it is real. My grandfather cuts a slice of pork and I eat it. The taste and smell of it tell it is healthy.

I feel strong like Popeye.
