My big adventure

One day I was in my bunk bed and I suddenly fell out of it and everything was black. When I opened my eyes I was in desert. I started to walk and I walked for a really long time. It was really hot but suddenly I felt the cold wind that was blowing into my face. Then I stepped into very cold deep snow. That was very very strange. Then I felt how my feet were in warm sand. I was on the beach. I closed my eyes and wished to be at my home. When I opened my eyes I was on bedroom floor and my family member were around me. That was just a dream.
