

A Really Special Holiday

Last winter I went to the Canary Islands with my family.

We went to the island of Tenerife which is the biggest island in the archipelago. As soon as I stepped out of the plane I was excited and surprised at the same time. The whole island looked like an endless desert with giant volcanic mountains surrounding it.

Next day we went to the Teide volcano, the landscape on the top was simply breathtaking. The best day of the holiday was when we took a helicopter tour around the island. Seeing the island from a helicopter was an incredible experience.

I always thought that the little things in life are the best ones and this little island proves me right.
