

Are we too dependent on new technologies?

Simona Škipić

In the last few years technology has developed a lot. Internet and modern devices today are one of the most important parts of our daily life.

There are large numbers of things that can be done using the internet. Communicating with other people isn't as complicated as it used to be. In fact, we can speak to people all over the world just by using electronic mail or a phone. Also, we can look up for different sorts of information fast and easy through the internet.

Technology is useful, but it can be dangerous as well, if you don't use it in the right way. It can keep us informed about the weather or the local news. Phones entertain us, but they are also used as a way of communicating. On the other hand, technology has negative effect too. A lot of illegal and inappropriate things can be seen on internet. These days, children are being abused through the internet. It's awful, and it must stop.

Overall, technology has changed a lot, so are the purposes of its use. In my opinion, most of the people are addicted to technology. I think that needs to change.

Blackbird škola stranih jezika, B2 nivo