The lost suitcase

Andrew left his apartment at about 1.30 pm. The meeting he supposed to be at was arranged at “Sunset”. The suitcase he carried contained top secret data on company’s affairs. Andrew’s car failed to start so he had to go by city transport. The trip to town center took an hour due to traffic delay. He finally got to the town center. He entered the “Sunset” and the meeting began. He zipped the suitcase reaching for the top secret data, but the suitcase was empty. Andrew was astonished and so were his partners. “Oh, no!” said Andrew, “ I fell asleep and someone surely switched the suitcases!”. “ But that means he can sell it to our rivals...”
